

ATHLETIC COUNTY NEWS.

J. WISE HAGINS, Editor and Publisher.

A NEWSPAPER DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF EASTERN KENTUCKY.

One Dollar Per Year in Advance.

VOLUME III.

JACKSON, KY., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1903.

NUMBER 6.

THE CUBAN TREATY.

President's Message to the Extra Session of Congress.

He Urges Its Ratification and Deems Such Legislation is Demanded, Not Only by Our Interests, But By Our Honor.

Washington, Nov. 10.—The following message of the president was sent to the congress Tuesday:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:

I have convened the congress that it may consider the legislation necessary to put into operation the commercial treaty with Cuba, which was ratified by the senate at its last session and subsequently by the Cuban government. It is in my opinion that the ratification of this treaty is demanded not only by our interest but by our honor. We cannot with propriety abandon the course upon which we have wisely embarked. When the acceptance of the Platt amendment, which required from Cuba by the senate of congress of the United States, this government thereby definitely committed itself to the policy of treating Cuba as occupying a unique position as regards this country.

It was provided that when the island became a free and independent republic she should stand in such close relation to us as in certain respects to come within our system of international policy; and it necessarily follows that she must also to a certain degree become included within the lines of our economic policy. Situated as Cuba is, it would not be possible for this country to permit the strategic abuse of the plan by any foreign military power. It is for this reason that certain limitations have been imposed upon her financial policy and that naval stations have been conceded by her to the United States. The negotiations as to the details of these naval stations are on the eve of completion. They are so situated as to prevent any idea that there is the intention ever to use them against Cuba, or otherwise to the detriment of the United States.

These interests have been largely increased by the consequences of the war with Spain, and will be further increased by the building of the isthmian canal. They are both military and economic. The granting to us by Cuba of the naval stations alluded to is of the utmost importance from a military standpoint, and is proof of the good faith with which Cuba is treating us. She has made great sacrifices for our independence was established. She has advanced steadily in every way. She asserts her independence among her sister republics of the new world. She is loyally performing her obligations to us, and she is entitled to like treatment by us.

The treaty submitted to you for approval secures to the United States economic advantages as great as those given to Cuba. Not an American interest is sacrificed. By the treaty a large Cuban market is secured to our producers. It is a market which lies at our doors, which is already large, which is capable of great expansion, and which is especially important to the development of our export trade. It would be a serious loss to us to refuse to take advantage of such opportunity and to force Cuba into making arrangements with other countries to our disadvantage.

This reciprocity treaty stands by itself. It is demanded on consideration of broad national policy as well as by our economic interest. It will do harm to no industry. It will benefit many industries. It is in the interest of our people as a whole, both because it will do harm to no industry from the broad standpoint of international policy and because economically it intimately concerns us to develop and secure the rich Cuban market for our farmers, artisans, merchants, and manufacturers. Finally it is desirable as a guaranty of the good faith of the nation toward her young sister republic to the south, whose welfare must ever be closely bound with ours. We gave her liberty. We are knit to her by the memories of the blood and the courage of our soldiers who fought for her in war; by the memory of the wisdom and integrity of our administrators who saved her in peace, and who started her so well on the difficult path of self government. We must help her onward and upward, and in helping her we shall help ourselves. The foregoing considerations caused the negotiation of the treaty with Cuba and its ratification by the senate. The law with equal force support the legislation by the congress which by the terms of the treaty is necessary to render it operative. A failure to enact such legislation would come perilously near a repudiation of the pledged faith of the nation.

I transmit herewith the treaty, as amended by the senate and ratified by the Cuban government.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

White House, Nov. 10, 1903.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The House Was in Session Less Than a Half Hour Tuesday.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Congress met Monday in extra session, organized and adjourned until Tuesday.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The house was in session less than half an hour Tuesday, an early adjournment being taken out of respect to the memory of two deceased members. The president's message was read and referred to the committee on ways and means, the membership of which is yet to be announced. The message also was ordered printed. The speaker announced the committees on rules and mileage. Aside from making provision for the payment of mileage of members no further business was transacted.

Two Americans Defeated.

London, Nov. 10.—John Bowker, of Manchester, defeated "Alf" Fellows, of Chicago, in the ninth round, for the bantam-weight championship. "Peddler" Palmer, an English pugilist, defeated George Dixon, American, in a 20-round contest for the 120-pound championship.

Jas. L. Blair's Resignation Accepted.

St. Louis, Nov. 11.—The board of directors of the Louisiana Purchase exposition accepted the resignation of James L. Blair as a member of the board, and Judge Franklin Ferries, of the circuit court, St. Louis, was elected to fill the vacancy.

Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris Stated.

St. Louis, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Nellie Grant Sartoris, who has just returned to St. Louis, will in all probability succeed Mrs. James L. Blair as president of the board of lady managers of the World's fair here.

THE FOREIGN MAIL.

Over 10,000,000 Pounds Dispatched Across the Seas the Past Year.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The annual report of N. M. Brooks, superintendent of foreign mails, shows that 10,994,044 pounds of mail were dispatched by sea to foreign countries, of which 7,456,348 pounds was for transatlantic destinations. The money paid on account of transportation of the mails dispatched to and received from foreign countries by sea during the fiscal year aggregated $2,209,087. It is estimated that $6,240,696 was received by this government as postage on articles exchanged with all foreign countries, of which follow the postage collected on articles exchanged with foreign countries other than Canada and Mexico amounted to $4,991,975, or $2,608,586 more than the net cost of the service. The estimates for the fiscal year 1904-5 include $2,821,900 for the sea transportation of mails, including foreign closed mails; railway transit across the isthmus of Panama, special compensation for service between San Francisco and Tahiti, maintenance of the United States postal agency at Shanghai, $50,000 for sea post offices on vessels plying between New York and Southampton, Bremen and Hamburg and $25,000 for transfer in New York harbor.

Cuba and the British protectorates of Somaliland and Southern Nigeria, in Africa, joined the universal postal union during the year. Official statistics of the postal service in the eight leading countries of the world, United States, Germany, Great Britain, France, Italy, Austria, Russia and Japan, shows that the United States leads in the number of post offices and employees, Germany as to letter boxes for the public, the United States ranking second; Switzerland as to the proportion of post offices to area and the United States as to the number of articles of mail matter received by and sent to each inhabitant, as to length of mail routes and number of pieces of printed matter carried.

DIED SUDDENLY.

Rr. Adm. Lester Anthony Beardslee Succumbed to Apoplexy.

Augusta, Ga., Nov. 11.—Rr. Adm. Lester Anthony Beardslee, U. S. N., retired, died suddenly Tuesday night of apoplexy at Chateau-Dever, the country home of Col. D. T. Dyer. The admiral was in the city most of Tuesday attending the street fair, and until 11 o'clock Tuesday night there was no sign of illness. The body will leave Augusta for Washington Wednesday, where it will be cremated. Adm. Beardslee entered the navy in 1850. He became rear admiral in 1895, and was retired in 1898. He was born in New York.

LAST PUBLIC APPEARANCE.

Crescens Failed in His Effort to Lower World's Trotting Record.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 11.—In what was heralded as his last public appearance on the turf, Crescens Tuesday failed in his effort to lower the world's trotting record of 2:08 for a mile on a half-mile track, held by himself, going the distance in 2:12; on the Kansas City Driving club's track. The conditions were unfavorable for record time and at the request of Geo. H. Ketcham, owner and driver of Crescens, the judges announced before the trial against time was begun that the crowd must not expect to see the record broken.

WORLD'S PACING RECORD.

Dan Patch Lowered It on a Half Mile Track at Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 11.—Dan Patch paced a mile on a half mile track here Tuesday afternoon in 2:03 1/4, lowering the only world's record for pacers outstanding against him. The record previous to this was 2:03 3/4, held by Prince Albert, Col. Webb, the runner that paced Dan Patch, faltered on the turn just before entering the stretch and but for this Dan Patch probably would have made the mile in less than 2:03. The official time by quarters was: 30 1/2; 1:01; 1:32 1/4; 2:03 1/4.

DISMISSED MIDSHIPMEN.

No Chance For Reinstatement of Those Guilty of Hazing.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Representative Lacy, of Iowa, called at the navy department in behalf of the midshipmen recently dismissed from the naval academy for hazing. Mr. Lacy was informed that there was no chance for reinstatement of any of the dismissed men, except by special act of congress, as neither the president nor the secretary of the navy has the power to reinstate them.

The Rockefeller in Control.

New York, Nov. 11.—The Chronicle Tuesday posted a bulletin on the New York stock exchange that the Rockefeller have at last secured complete control of the United States Steel corporation.

National Grangers Meet.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 11.—The annual session of the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, opened Tuesday evening with public exercises in Pithburgh hall. The convention will be in session 11 days with three sessions each day.

Yellow Fever Bulletin.

Laredo, Tex., Nov. 11.—The official yellow fever bulletin issued Tuesday night is as follows: New cases, 20; deaths, 5; total cases to date, 768; total deaths, 77. Two deaths from yellow fever occurred Monday at Minera.

MINERS OUT ON STRIKE.

More Than 10,000 in Colorado Struck Monday.

The Mine Owners Are Making Efforts to Continue Operations Under the Protection of a Guard—Trouble Will Likely Result.

Denver, Col., Nov. 10.—More than 10,000 national miners in Colorado went on strike Monday for an eight-hour day, increased wages and other concessions. The strike was ordered by the national officers of the United Mine Workers of America after the coal companies refused to confer with union representatives concerning the demands of the men. Of the idle men, 6,000 are in the southern coal fields; 2,000 in the northern coal fields and 1,800 in Fremont county. One hundred mines have been closed. A few independent properties in the northern coal fields and elsewhere will not stop work, since the operators have granted an eight-hour day and an increase in wages. More than 1,000 miners will remain at work, according to reports from the affected regions. The announcement comes that 800 men have gone out in Colfax county. The other miners in that territory are negotiating with the mine owners.

The Colorado Fuel and Iron, the Victor Fuel and the Northern Coal and Cokes Cos. are the largest producers. Nearly all of their property has been tied up by the action of the miners. However, they are making efforts to continue operations under the protection of a strong guard. There are about 140 coal miners in Colorado with an output of some 8,000,000 tons of coal and about 1,000,000 tons of coke a year.

It will be the policy of the United Mine Workers to depopulate the various fields by sending the idle men and their families to Illinois, Indian territory, Missouri, Iowa and other states, where work can be secured for them. Some 5,000 tickets to these states have already been arranged for by the mine workers, and Monday hundreds of the strikers started to new fields. D. C. Evans, member of the executive board of the national organization, Indiana, is now in Trinidad to handle the financial end of the strike. Other members of the executive board are in Colorado and will have charge of the campaign during the struggle, one being stationed in the centers of each strike field. Residents of Denver and other cities found it impossible Monday to secure a ton of coal for immediate delivery. The supply of lignite coal is exhausted, and companies having other kinds of coal, booked orders for not more than one ton, subject to two weeks delay in delivery.

The railroad companies say that they have enough coal stored to meet all their requirements for some time.

State militia is held in readiness to be dispatched to the coal regions at the first call from the sheriffs of the counties affected.

SAN DOMINGO REVOLT.

The Capital Capitulated and Gen. Jimenez Was Proclaimed President.

Cape Haytien, Nov. 11.—A dispatch from Monte Cristo says it is reported there that San Domingo has capitulated to the revolutionists and that Gen. Jimenez has been proclaimed president of the republic.

Paris, Nov. 11.—A dispatch received here from Cape Haytien says that after three days fighting President Wood G. Gil took refuge in the German consulate at San Domingo. The revolution is considered at an end.

Dismal Swamp Lands.

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 10.—Five thousand acres of the Dismal Swamp land near Norfolk, Va., are to be reclaimed by a company composed of Ohio men. John B. Lewis, of Somerset, Ky., who has secured the position of agricultural foreman of the company, passed through Knoxville Monday en route to Norfolk. Lewis says the land was bought originally for its timber but since it has been cleared it has been found to be very fertile. The work of ditching and draining the land has already begun and hundreds of men are to be put to work. It is the intention of the company to raise all kinds of vegetables and later to engage in cattle raising on an extensive scale.

Peace in Central America Assured.

Managua, Nicaragua, Nov. 11.—The treaty recently signed at Acajutla by the Central American republics stipulates compulsory arbitration and provides for regulations preventing emigrants from organizing revolutions against neighboring republics, thus assuring Central American peace.

To Look After German Interests.

Washington, Nov. 10.—News has reached here that two German warships have sailed from St. Thomas, Danish West Indies, for San Domingo to look after German interests during the revolutionary troubles there.

A Treaty of Arbitration.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Prof. Charles Cheney Hyde, of the Northwestern university law school, Monday left for Washington in company with Thomas Barclay, who is desirous of arranging a treaty of arbitration between the United States and England.

Tennessee Miners Struck.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 10.—A special from Whitwell, Tenn., says: Four hundred miners struck here Monday morning on account of a disagreement between them and the company as to the method of weighing coal.

GERMANIC MUSEUM.

Collection Sent by Emperor William Presented to Harvard.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 11.—In the presence of a select gathering of distinguished scholars and others who take a deep interest in matters of an educational nature, the Germanic museum at Harvard was formally opened Tuesday and the collections sent to it by Emperor William of Germany formally presented. The announcement of these gifts was made by Prince Henry during his visit to this country in March, 1902.

The exercises in the new lecture hall began at 3 o'clock. Upon the platform were Prof. H. C. G. von Jagemann, the presiding officer; Baron von Dem Busche-Haddenhausen, counselor of legation, and first secretary of the embassy at Washington, representing the German ambassador; President Charles W. Eliot, Prof. Kuno Francis, curator of the Germanic museum association.

The address of Baron von Dem Busche-Haddenhausen was of particular interest, for besides presenting the emperor's collection, he announced that a number of German scholars, officials and men of affairs had prepared a reproduction of German silver and gold work, which is to be given to the museum and also that Prof. A. C. Coolidge, of the historic department at Harvard, had given the university a library of ten thousand volumes on German history.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—An exhibition was opened Tuesday at the museum of industrial art of the objects to be presented to Harvard's Germanic museum as supplemental to Emperor William's gifts. The contributions is the result of the efforts of Prof. Kuno Francis, of Harvard university, in interesting German artists, scientists and capitalists in the Germanic museum, as a means of displaying the fatherland's art treasures in the United States and strengthening the ties between the two countries.

It was decided to select the goldsmith's work of the 12th to the 17th centuries for illustration and imitations of 55 cups of various designs, basins and dishes, were made by an electroplating process to compare with the articles chiefly are from the work of Nuremberg and Augsburg goldsmiths of the period when this art was at maturity. Many of these objects now are in possession of princely houses, municipalities and museums.

Emperor William has permitted the reproduction of several of the finest pieces in his collection, including the so-called emperor's cup of the 16th century, by Wenzel Jamnitzer, of Nuremberg. The kings of Wurttemberg and Saxony also have permitted copies to be made of some of their treasures. The largest group consisted of 16 pieces from the townhall of Luebeck, now in possession of the Berlin museum. Among the famous pieces are the so-called Lauschaendelcup, from the museum of Graz, the Luther cup, presented to the reformer upon his marriage, by the Wittenberg town council; and the Corvinus cup, which King Corvinus of Hungary presented to the Vienna council in 1462. The reproductions are so successful that an expert scarcely can detect the difference from the originals. The collection will remain on exhibition here for a week and will be sent to Harvard in a fortnight.

CLAIMS AGAINST VENEZUELA.

Nearly All the Commissioners Have Wound Up Their Work.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The department's advisers indicate that nearly all of the international claims commissions have wound up their work at Caracas, the American commission having only two cases to consider. When these commissions conclude their work the awards declared will await the decision of The Hague tribunal as to the order in which they are to be paid, that is, upon terms of equality with the claims of the nations that conducted the blockade of Venezuelan ports, or whether they are to lie in abeyance until these claims are completely met by the Venezuelan customs. Advice from The Hague indicate that the decision of the tribunal will not long be withheld.

MAJ. GEN. CORBIN.

Will Assist at the Dedication of the Ohio Memorials.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Maj. Gen. Corbin, commanding the department of the east, arrived in Washington and paid his respects to the president. He is on a trip of inspection and left later for Atlanta to inspect Fort McPherson. Thence he will go to Chattanooga and will be in charge of the military contingent which is to assist in the dedication of the Ohio memorials on the Chickamauga battlefield.

Apostle of Mormon Church Arrested.

Salt Lake, Utah, Nov. 11.—A warrant was sworn out Tuesday charging Heber J. Grant, one of the leading apostles of the Mormon church, with polygamous cohabitation with Augusta Winters Grant and Emily Wells Grant.

A New and Fatal Disease.

New York, Nov. 11.—A strange and fatal disease has become epidemic in Helmetta, N. J. The disease is accompanied by symptoms usual in scarlet fever cases, but its progress is much more rapid. In some cases death has ensued in three days.

Pleaded Guilty to Peonage.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 11.—L. A. Grogan, Wm. Joiner, L. L. London, J. McDaniel and F. M. Pruitt, of Dadeville, pleaded guilty in the United States court here Tuesday to charges of peonage and each was fined $1,000.

THE FALLS OF OHIO.

May Be Utilized to Generate Electric Power.

If Government Consent is Secured Capitalists Will Spend About $2,000,000 for Their Initial Power Plant at Louisville, Ky.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 11.—At the conclusion of a conference between capitalists representing Widener-Elkins interests and Maj. George M. Derby, United States engineer for this district, it was announced that the plan for harnessing the falls of the Ohio to generate power for a vast plant would be favorably recommended to the war department. The project for utilizing the great water power has been under consideration for some time. It was necessary, however, to first secure the consent of the war department to the plan and to demonstrate that navigation and certain riparian rights maintained by the government would not be interfered with.

Among those present at the conference were: Prof. Duls Duncan, president of the school of electrical engineering, Boston school of technology; John Birkinbine, Philadelphia engineer, said to represent the United Gas Improvement Co.; W. Kelsey Schoepf, Cincinnati, president of the Cincinnati Traction Co.; Maj. George M. Derby, United States engineer; F. A. Joss, attorney, Indianapolis; Benecette Williams, Chicago engineer.

The capitalists representing the Widener-Elkins interests have for the past three months had engineers busy drawing up their plans. These plans were considered by Maj. Derby at the conference Tuesday, and after the meeting broke up it was announced that Maj. Derby would give a partial endorsement of them to the war department. Beyond this no information was given by those concerned.

It was learned, however, that if the final consent of the government is secured the capitalists will spend about $2,000,000 for their initial power plant, which will be of sufficient size to furnish electrical power and light, not only to Louisville, but to traction lines and towns within a wide radius, covering part of Southern Indiana and Northern Kentucky. The plans considered Tuesday were drawn by Benecette Williams, engineer for the Chicago drainage canal.

THE NORTH POLE.

Commander Peary Lectured Before the Royal Geographical Society.

London, Nov. 11.—Commander Peary, U. S. N., lectured before the royal geographical society Tuesday night in the presence of Ambassador Choate, Secretary White, and many other distinguished persons. After reviewing the previous attempts to reach the north pole, Commander Peary said his future plans were based on the belief that the Smith sound route was the only practicable one. He wished to win the pole for America because it was the last geographical prize the world had to offer and it was peculiarly an object of American pride and patriotism. America was now negotiating for the isthmus of Panama. The other natural and logical boundary to her destiny was the north pole. He hoped by winning the pole for his country to appropriately crown her four centuries of struggle, heroism and achievement.

TIED HIM TO A TREE.

The Mob Left the Negro There to Starve to Death.

Aurora, Mo., Nov. 11.—Frank Smith, a Negro, stabbed an Austrian in the back on the new White River railroad south of here Saturday. He was captured by a gang of Austrians, who tied him to a tree in the mountains, leaving him there with the intention of starving him to death. A party of hunters from Aurora found him Tuesday and released him. He was in a critical condition and unable to walk. He was placed in jail at Galena, Stone county. None of the Austrians have been arrested. A report from Galena Tuesday night is to the effect that he is dying and a gang of Negroes from a railway camp is seeking revenge.

Richest American Girl Weds.

New York, Nov. 11.—The duke of Roxburgh, 17th peer in the court of St. James, was wedded to Miss May Goelt, daughter of Mrs. Ogden Goelt, of this city, at St. Thomas church Tuesday afternoon. The bride was the richest unmarried woman in the United States, and is reported to be worth $25,000,000 in her own right.

Going Back to Their Native Land.

New York, Nov. 11.—Thousands upon thousands of immigrants who arrived at this port in the early months of the year are now crowding the east-bound steamers in their efforts to return to their native lands.

Adopted Resolutions.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 11.—The Canadian Woman's Christian Temperance Union Tuesday adopted a resolution urging the president of the St. Louis exposition to use his influence to suppress disorderly houses and gambling halls.

Judge D. Thew Wright Nominated.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The president Tuesday sent to the senate the nomination of Judge D. Thew Wright, of Cincinnati, as associate justice of the supreme court of the District of Columbia.

Interesting State News

ATTORNEY BYRD. Announces That He Will Stay Away From Breathitt County.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 9.—A. Floyd Byrd, commonwealth attorney of Breathitt county, who gained a national reputation in the prosecution of Curtis Jett and Tom White for the murder of Attorney Marcum, in a long distance telephone communication Sunday confirmed the rumor that he has decided to remain away from Breathitt county during the term of court, which begins there Monday.

His action is taken upon the insistent solicitations of friends and relatives who declare that judging from the past history of the county his life would be in constant peril there. He has not received warning of a definite plot to take his life as has been rumored.

T. P. Cole of Jackson, has been temporarily appointed prosecuting attorney. There will be no indictments at the coming term of court. Mr. Byrd says, in connection with the numerous assassination cases and further investigation will be postponed for the present.

Mr. Byrd's term of office will expire January 1. He will then move to Winchester to reside permanently, but does not expect to sever himself entirely from the mountains in which he has been instrumental in bringing about a revolution of law and order.

He has been urged to run for congress from the Tenth Kentucky district to succeed John B. White, and he may do so, but has not yet announced himself.

Only minor cases are on the docket of the Breathitt circuit court and the trials which begin this week will be in marked contrast to the last term of court when Jett and White were tried, when the courthouse was surrounded by soldiers and citizens stored their weapons in an improvised "armory" before entering the courthouse.

THE ISSUANCE OF A WARRANT. It Caused a Magistrate to Kill An Enraged Farmer.

Bowling Green, Ky., Nov. 7.—Magistrate Elijah Upton Friday shot and killed Tom Stewart, a farmer at Richwood, this county. The shooting was the result of the issuance of a warrant by Squire Upton for Stewart's arrest on the application of the latter's son, following a quarrel over politics. Stewart had been voting the republican ticket, but Tuesday announced his intention of voting for the democratic nominee. His father entered a decided protest, which angered the young man, and father and son came to blows.

Swallowed Pieces of Steel Wire.

Versailles, Ky., Nov. 7.—George Honaker, 40, under sentence of life imprisonment for beating his wife, died in jail Friday. The post-mortem disclosed a mass of short pieces of steel wire in the stomach. Honaker had threatened to commit suicide. The court of appeals recently reversed the lower court's verdict, and Honaker would soon had a retrial.

Returned to Fort Thomas.

Fort Thomas, Ky., Nov. 9.—Company C, Third infantry, has returned from West Point, where it was engaged in guarding quartermasters' stores left there by the troops participating in the recent maneuvers. Capt. Barker remained to adjust claims of farmers who have been damaged by maneuvers.

Refuse to Make Good the Deficit.

Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 13.—The guarantors of the state fair, recently held in this city, have decided as a whole to resist the payment of the deficit, which amounts to nearly $12,000. An expert accountant found gross negligence and extravagant expenditures of money.

Looking For An Abiding Place.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 7.—Attorney General-elect N. B. Hays, of Bell county, is here looking about for a house to occupy during his four years' stay in Kentucky as a state official. He has not been at home since early in the campaign.

Ground to Death By Trolley Car.

Pittsburg, Oct. 9.—Edward Thomas, 46, of Newport, Ky., was struck by a Franktown avenue car and literally ground to pieces. Thomas was walking across the avenue and passed directly in front of the car, which was going at a fair rate of speed.

Gov. Beckham's Plurality.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 9.—With two precincts missing Gov. Beckham's plurality is 26,513. Complete returns will probably out the plurality to 25,000, as the entire vote of one republican county, Martin, is missing.

Wants to Go to the Poorhouse.

Newport, Ky., Nov. 10.—James R. Brophy, 73, who claims to have been the first member of the Newport police force, made application Monday at the city hall to be admitted to the city infirmary. Brophy has been living with a married daughter in Cincinnati.

Going Into Winter Quarters.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 7.—Nine head of horses of Millionaire A. Featherstone's racing stable arrived here Friday from the Aqueduct race track to go into winter quarters at Kenmore farm.

THE HORSE SALES.

Sixty Animals Brought a Total of $16,785 at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 10.—Sixty horses brought a total of $16,785 in the opening day's sale of the Tranter-Kenney Co. The best sales were: Annie McGregor, b. m., 12, by Robert McGregor-More, Mansfield farm, Lexington, Ky., $525.

Riddle, br. g., 8, by Allie Wood-Miss.

Ole Bruce, Mahrey & Hill, Madison, Ind., $675.

McNaught, b. c., 2, by Allie Wood-Miss Ole Bruce, J. R. Peak & Son, Winchester, Ill., $925.

Hattie Smith, b. m., 4, by Hinder Wilkes-Olga, W. W. Evans, Lexington, $835.

Bardensia, b. c., 2, by Expedition-Bardstown, House, Frey & Clingen, $825.

Lulu Campan, b. m., by Axtell-Daisy Cuyler, Charles Frederick, Olean, N. Y., $950.

THE DEAL CLOSED.

A Big Acreage of Timber Land in Kentucky Sold.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., Nov. 7.—The Loveland-Garrett Lumber Co., of Clark county, composed of C. H. Loveland and H. Green Garrett and Cincinnati and Covington people, has purchased 40,000 acres of timber lands lying in Breathitt, Morgan, Wolfe and Powell counties. The land was bought at $6 per acre, and comprised some of the best timber in the state. The company will inaugurate a new feature in the lumber business by sawing all lumber in Kentucky and shipping east for sale. The new company will give employment to almost 200 men.

KILLED A MAN.

Daniels Said to Have Worried Himself to Death Over It.

Owingsville, Ky., Nov. 10.—The only case on record in this section in which a man worried himself to death is that of John Daniels, aged 70, a farmer. During the civil war he was a federal soldier. When on a trip in this county he and a man named Hart had a quarrel. Daniels, it is said, followed Hart, and attacking him from behind, killed him. In his declining years he brooded over the murder until he died.

Decide For Hunter.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 9.—The republican state central committee voted 7 to 4 that Dr. W. Godfrey Hunter is the party nominee in the Eleventh district, reversing the district congressional committee. Secretary of State Hays was asked to recall his order certifying to county clerks that D. C. Edwards is the nominee. He will not do so unless forced by the courts. The matter will probably be left to congress to decide.

Harlan, Ky., Nov. 10.—County Clerk Hamp Howard Monday sent to the various election precincts ballots with W. Godfrey Hunter's name under the log cabin. News from Judge Faulkner's court at Manchester, states that a warrant charging contempt has been issued for Clerk Howard. An effort to have Sheriff Ward, of this county, serve a telephone copy on Clerk Howard was refused.

THE BREATHITT NEWS.

J. WISE HAGINS, Editor.

Friday, -- November 13, 1903

JOHN D. WHITE,

Lawyer,

Room 603, Kentucky Title Bldg.
Louisville, Ky.

Will practice in State and U. S. Courts
Boys and sells Real Estate. Keeps good list of Farms at fair prices. Special attention given to Oil, Coal and Timber lands. Reports values on application. Director for the New Era Land Company.

Circulation more than FOURTEEN HUNDRED copies.

We have the largest circulation of any paper ever published in Breathitt county.

We published last week the official returns from all the precincts in the county. We took our statement of the Oakdale precinct from the certificate held by one of the Judges of the election of that precinct. The County Clerk said then and says now that he has never received any returns from Oakdale precinct from the Judge and Sheriff of the election as required by law. The returns as certified at the close of the election room are as follows:

Beckham, 161.
Belknap, 103.
Riddell, 171.
Blakey, 93.
Roberts, 164.
Adams, 100.
Day, 163.
Spicer, 101.

But when it was learned that these returns would not elect Roberts and Day on the face of the returns, some one got hold of the certificate pasted on that stub book and mutilated and changed
it so as to read as follows:

Beckham, 161.
Belknap, 103.
Riddle, 281.
Blakey, 23.
Roberts, 264.
Adams, 10
Day, 253
Spicer, 10

You ought to see that mutilated certificate, now in the County Clerk's office. The Clerk refuses to certify to a copy of same, so a photographic copy has been made.

The forger was in a hurry or he was a poor hand at the business, for he did not erase all the figures nor did he make a good two out of the one in the hundreds place. There were only 264 votes cast at the precinct, but by adding you will see that a much larger number was counted.

We do not think it would be hard to find the guilty party in this case, as it is only ten miles from the place of voting to the county seat, where the returns should have been brought not later than Wednesday.

Let the guilty parties be indicted and punished according to law.

James P. Adams, of Salyers-ville, was here Wednesday. He took a look at the Oakdale certificate and found that 100 votes had been added to Roberts and 90 taken from him, making 190 votes difference from the returns as originally made. He says that the 100 votes given him at Oakdale gave him a majority of 38 in the district. He accordingly went to Beattyville to file a contest. He says he only wants the 100 cast for him at Oakdale.

W W McGuire, formerly of West Liberty, has moved into the house he recently purchased of J R Blake, on College avenue

Mrs Cordelia Baker, of Antigo, Wis., who has been visiting friends and relatives in the county for the past two months, will return home Monday

Dr J A Taulbee and his mother returned first of the week from a three weeks trip to Oklahoma

Everett Back, who has been at St Joseph's Hospital at Lexington for the past six weeks, with typhoid fever, returned home Thursday

Laid to Rest.

Little Alex, the eight year old son of
Joe Strong, of Athol died at Danville
Thursday and was brought home Friday for burial. He was attending school here

CORRESPONDENCE

From This and Surrounding Counties by our Special Correspondents.

BOONVILLE.

B J Mayers has moved to his new dwelling house across the river on his farm.

Plenty of fruit being delivered to our citizens this week.

Born to the wife of Bruce Woodward on 29th Oct. a bouncing Republican boy and Bruce is the happiest man on earth.

The hardest Hard-shell Baptist sermon that has been preached in Boonville for years was preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday night.

Our County Clerk has been enjoined so often and by so many different candidates concerning printing ballots for Nov 10th special election I doubt whether he will be able to get up a lawful ballot or not.

Amos Durbin's sow that has been lost for the last 47 days was found under the Methodist church house. She was dive notwithstanding she had not taste d food nor water for 47 days. She is now alive and fair on the way to recovery

An altercation occurred last week on White Oak between John Peters (son of Henry) and James Neely on one side and Henry Hamilton on the other in which Hamilton was very seriously wounded in the head with a piece of scantling by Peters and others badly bruised. Neely and Peters are in custody awaiting the result of the wounds Hamilton's wounds are thought to be fatal. Cause—too much whisky.

A Difficulty occurred on Sugar Camp
Branch Tuesday night in which there were 40 or 50 shots fired, but no one hurt except David Mason's step son named Barrett who was shot in the leg
John and Campbell Rose Wm.
Seale, Ray Shepherd, Ed Wilson and Lee Wilson (son of Ed) are all under a $3000 bond to answer charged with the shooting.

Elbert Combs son-in-law of Clint Fall shot and wounded one Ab Beard in Indian creek last week; the wounds are not thought to be extremely dangerous although it gives much pain
Combs was brought before Squire
Chandler but is waiting results.

The election went off quietly in this county H. C. Combs for clerk and D.
G. Wilson for sheriff whose offices were taken from them by a contest were re-elected Combs without opposition. Wilson defeated Wm Harvey his opponent by 241 majority John F Brewer was elected County Judge to fill out the unexpired term of Judge Hyden which office was declared vacant by contest, defeating Ex-Judge W B Gabbard his opponent, by 62 majority. Belknap carried the county 820. The Prohibition candidate for Governor received 3 votes in the county.

YALLER BRITCHES

Try THE NEWS—You will like it.

TORRENT

Mr Blair Dougherty, of Salt Lick, Ky., who has been employed in the saw factory at Ridgewood Junction returned home on the 3d inst.

Mr Jno Pace, of Ridgewood was in Winchester last week.

Rev. Geurant, of Mt. Sterling, Ky., preached three interesting and instructive sermons last Saturday and Sunday.

Messrs Edward and John Myers were in Beattyville Tuesday.

Sylvester Spencer has moved his family here from Ridgewood Junction.

Mr Carl Ashley was in Winchester
Wednesday.

C S Bush Post master was in Beatty-ville Wednesday

Mr Wm Bush, Jr has removed his family from here to Ridgewood Junction.

Henry Hedrich, of Salt Lick, Ky., threw up his job in the saw factory at Ridgewood Junction and hiked for home last Tuesday.

A broken shaft caused the saw factory to shut down Monday--Tuesday.

It resumed operation Wednesday.

FROZEN.

Thomas Walter and wife, of Magoffin was visiting James M Burton Saturday and Sunday.

There are several cases of small-pox on Bloody Creek and Devils Creek and stopped the school on Bloody Creek in Wolfe county.

There are a great many young people in this part who are engaged in different occupations some teaching school some working and trying to make money and want to do some good while there; are others who go to church to drink whisky and disturb those who are trying to do right such folks should be brought before the court so that they would be a shamed.

It was pay day Saturday at the mouth of Frozen and a large crowd in attendance.

Old Uncle Louis Napier died on the 4 inst. He was one of our best citizens and his loss is mourned by all his neighbors for he was a good Christian man and died in full triumph of faith.

Brother J B Finchum preached at South school house last Sunday to a large crowd and some of those who helped eat pork, cake and honey at Mr Caleb Fletchers were Mr E Johnson and wife, Mr McPerson and wife, Misses Aggie and Lula Finchum and others to numerous to mention and all delighted because of those two daughters of Mr. Fletcher's who knows how to fix things to eat.

Wiley Riley has taken the job of hauling the logs on Strong Fork for W R Day & Co., now being cut by James M Burton as forman.

Caleb Fletcher and W R Day has delivered to Mr Beaver 8452 rail road ties.

BOWLING

Perry county.

Logan Bowling loves to visit in the lower end of Leslie county.

John Dixon says he has a knife that he wouldn't give give for five pine-blank like it—keep that knife, Dad

Some of the boys got a little too much whiskey last Thursday and fired their pistols off close to the election precinct, whereupon the Deputy Sheriff summoned a posse and captured the gentlemen. John A Barger was the man who did the shooting and he was taken before the Magistrate who fined him $25.

Allie Hacker was hauling goods a few days ago and as he went by a narrow place in the road his wagon slipped on the bank. Fortunately for his mules the coupling pin broke. His goods were badly demolished.

Dr Abshear, of Buckhorn, was here
this week.

Prof Morris was a guest of the writer
Saturday night.

The NEWS is your paper Try it

Do Good-It Pays

A Chicago man has observed that.
"Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose it."
Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." For sale by Day Bros Co.

Found—a watch, near the town of Jackson. Owner can have same by proving property and paying for this notice.

FLOYD DAY, President. J. SAMUEL HEAD, Jr., Cashier.
A. P. CRAWFORD, Vice President. ROBT VANARSDALL, Asst. Cash

JACKSON DEPOSIT BANK,

Jackson, Kentucky.

Paid up Capital $15,000.00
Surplus 1,050.00

We solicit the Banking Business and accounts of Lumber Manufacturers,

Timber Dealers,
Business Men,
Merchants,
Farmers

Throughout Eastern Kentucky and for our customers
the mos

LIBERAL TERMS

Within the limits of legitimate business.

COLLECTIONS A SPECIALTY.

A. P. CRAWFORD JAMES BROPHY A. F. LYON

A. P. CRAWFORD & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

General Merchandise

Consisting of a brand new line of Clothing. Shoes. Hats,

Dry Goods, Groceries,
Gents Furnishing Goods.
Hardware

And everything usually found in a first class general store. We sell for

Cash AND AT Rock Bottom Prices

Call on us at the

Crawford Building

and let us show you what we can do.

A. P. CRAWFORD & CO.

FARMS
FOR SALE.

We have for sale many desirable farms in Central Kentucky, especially in Marion and adjoining counties.
These farms range in acreage from

50 to 500 Acres
—and in prices from—$10 to $60 Per Acre.

Some of these places are Rich Blue Grass Farms, and others River and Creek Bottom lands.

We have excellent facilities for showing these farms and would be glad to show them to those who are interested.

—If you are thinking of going to—
Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas or to the West in Search of a Home,

Write us and we will forward you information regarding these different States.

We are in a position to obtain the very lowest railroad rates, and to go along with you and show you any of these countries. Your correspondence is solicited and will have our prompt attention.

Central Ky. Real Estate Co.,
Lebanon, Ky.

R. E. YOUNG,
Secretary and Treasurer. 10-2-3

The Hanan Shoe

FOR SALE AT
Day Bros Co.

Try US for JOB WORK

THE HAZARD
BAPTIST INSTITUTE

will open

JANUARY 4, 1904.

We hope to have our new building ready by this time. It will be an elegant building, consisting of five well furnished rooms, two halls and an office. The faculty will consist of

Five First Class Teachers

Special attention will be given to the preparation of teachers for their noble work, while other departments will not be neglected. Beyond the Common School Branches, the following subjects will be taught: Mathematics, to and including first part of Trigonometry, English, up to Logic, General History of American Politics, Physical Geography, Moral Science, Psychology, Music, Etc.

Tuition, Per Month, From $1 to $2
Board, Including Fuel, Lights, Etc., $1.75 to $2

For further particulars, call on or address

A. S. PETREY, OR
E. F. DAVIS,
HAZARD, KENTUCKY.

Day Bros. Co.

Have the most complete stock of

GENERAL
MERCHANDISE

Ever brought to Jackson. Consisting of

Dry Goods, Notions,
Clothing,
Hats,
Shoes.

We have the Finest Line of SHOES in Eastern Kentucky.
Our mens shoes are of the Latest Style.

For the Ladies
we have the most Fashionable Lot of Shoes money could buy.

Millinery Goods

This Department is under the management of Miss Laura Rawlings who can show you

The Latest Style Hats

direct from New York City. Also FASHIONABLE DRESS GOODS,
In all the Latest Patterns and weaves Fresh from the Eastern Markets.

If you need any House Furnishings or

FURNITURE

We are the people you are looking for we have it by car loads to suit every body.

Come and see us our

Prices Are All Right.

Day Bros. Co.

C U S B 4 U B I

We will have our Fall Opening next week. Our stock of Clothing, Shoes, Hats and Gents Furnishing Goods is the most complete we have ever had since we have been in business. I am yours to give you a Cut Price from 15 to 25 per cent lower than the lowest.

C. KELMAN
Jackson, Kentucky.

The Breathitt News.
Published Every Friday.

HAPPENINGS OF THE WEEK
IN AND AROUND JACKSON

Circulation more than FOURTEEN Hundred copies

Eggs are selling at 15 cents dozen.

J. J. C. Back is attending court at Hindman.

Ginseng is quoted at $5 and $5.50 per pound.

Hiram Bailey is attending court at Hindman.

If you have any engraving to do, try S. D. Fleener.

Wm Day moved back to his farm on Frozen Creek last week.

You can get the best hams and bacon at Edwards & Son.

Lewis Gross, of Elkatawa, was here Thursday.

Have your eyes tested and fitted by S. D. Fleener Jeweler and optician.

Henry Williams, of Bays, was here on business Thursday.

See S. D. Fleener for all kinds of watches, clocks and jewelry, repairing prices reasonable.

Misses Margaret Sewell and Nancy Spencer are visiting friends in Mt Sterling.

Robert Fordson of J. W. Ford, of this place, is quite sick with typhoid fever.

Mrs. M. W. Carter will leave next Monday for a visit to her mother in Wolfe county.

C. G. Brown has moved into the house he recently purchased from Wm Day on East Main street.

Pure bred Pekin Ducks, Cornish Indian Game chickens and Belgian Hares for sale by M. & M. HAGINS, Jackson, Ky.

H. F. Davis has put on a new coat of paint on the inside of his grocery store which improves the appearance very much.

For sick headache try Chamberlains Stomach and Liver Tablets; they will ward off the attack if taken in time. For sale by Day Bros. Co.

One red and white pided cow, with one eye out; also a roan heifer, about 18 months old. Finder will please notify O. C. Hall, Jackson, Ky.

J. H. Newland was elected Marshal to fill out the unexpired term of Mr. James Cockrill.

We keep on hand at all times a good supply of nice fresh meal, which we will sell cheap.
GRAIN, COMBS & Co.

Mrs. S. S. Taulbee and two little children, Virginia and Ruth, left this morning for Lexington.

S. D. Fleener has just received the newest line of 1847 Rogers Bros. Silverware ever brought to Jackson, consisting of knives, forks, tea, dessert, table and souvenir spoons. Call and examine them.

You will see something new every day in Day Bros. Co.'s show windows. T. M. Bosworth is the decorator, and when it comes to dressing a window, Tom can't be beat.

Eli Jones returned last week from Knoxville, Tenn., where he had been on business connected with his fruit tree agency.

J. W. Edwards & Son sell sliced ham at 18c pound.

WANTED: To buy poplar logs for veneer work; 16 inches and up; any length; will pay cash.
W. J. Gibson, Norton, Va.

Died at 80.
Mrs. Fannie Allen died at her home on Canoe Fork last Thursday night of old age. She was 80 years old.
$6000 to Loan on good real estate security. Call on or address, ALFRED ROBERTS, Lost Creek, Ky.

Congress.
Congress was convened in special session last Monday to ratify the treaty made with Cuba. Joseph Cannon, of Illinois, was elected Speaker.

Oil
And the formations in which it is found. Send 25 cts. for the Oil Prospector's Guide.
W. H. FAULKNER, Fairfield, Iowa.

Goes to Washington.
D. W. Gardner, of Salyersville, has been appointed Private Secretary to Congressman Frank Hopkins. He left last week for Washington to assume his duties.

Harper Heirs.
The suit to test the validity of the claim of the Harper heirs to a large estate in the Indian Territory, will come up for trial this week in December. The outlook seems to be good for the heirs. The estate is worth several million dollars.

Notice!

Any person or persons destroying any property of the Jackson Electric Light and Power Co.'s lines, lamps, etc., will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.
Jackson Electric Light & Power Co.,
By Luther Leber.

CIRCUIT COURT.
Liberty Clemons Gets Four Years—Other Cases.

Eliza Spicer was fined $50 for malicious shooting and wounding.
Irvine Allen was fined $300 for malicious shooting and wounding.
Liberty Clemons was sent to the pen for four years for the murder of John Howard.
Most all the felony cases have been continued.
A few misdemeanor cases have been tried.

M. & M. Hagins are now prepared to furnish some fine pair, trios, or pens of Pure bred Cornish Indian Game chickens, and White Pekin Ducks at reasonable prices. It costs no more to keep pure bred fowls, than Mongrels, and they are much more profitable. Our Indian Game hens weigh from six to eight pounds; and the roosters from seven to eleven pounds.

Sorry to See Him Leave.
The many friends of Dr. W. P. Hogg will be sorry to hear that he has gone to California, where he intends to locate and make that State his future home.
He was a good physician, and during his short stay here built up a fine practice and made many life-long friends, who wish him much success in his far-away Southern home.
Dr. Swango, who was Dr. Hogg's partner, will continue to remain in the old office.

Notice!

Mr. T. T. Hiner, Attorney, is the authorized collector for all accounts for the Jackson Electric Light and Power Company, and all settlements from this date should be paid to him. He also will receive all meter bills from month to month and is the general representative.
JACKSON ELECTRIC LIGHT & POWER CO.,
Nov. 13, '04. By LUTHER LEBER.

Have Patience.
There seems to be some misunderstanding regarding the starting up of the Electric Light Plant. The people should not worry; the run was only temporary, as there were delay in getting water, owing to the unsuccessful attempt with well service. The Wm. T. Johnson Company, of Cincinnati, have now completed the order for all perfect connections, and the plant will be running at full speed in a day or two. Mr. Leber will leave a competent engineer in charge of plant on his departure from Jackson, who will please the citizens irrespective of present assemblage, and the citizens can look for good lighting and good service for evermore.

JUST WHAT YOU NEED
Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets.

When you feel dull after eating.
When you have no appetite.
When you have a bad taste in your mouth.
When your liver is torpid.
When your bowels are constipated.
When you have a headache.
When you feel bilious.
They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stomach and regulate your liver and bowels. For sale by Day Bros. Co.

We have received a car load of Kanawha Salt, and are selling seven bushels for $1.75.
GRAIN, COMBS & Co.

LEETE & BEURIS,
CIVIL ENGINEERS
AND SURVEYORS

Prompt Attention given to all classes of work and . . .
SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.
OFFICE: JACKSON, KENTUCKY.

Wait for S. D. Fleener's new line of Xmas Goods.

WEDDING BELLS.
DICKSON-ADAMS.
Dr. C. B. Dickson and Miss Grace Adams were quietly married in the parlor of the Red River Hotel, at Clay City, last Tuesday evening, in the presence of the friends of the family.
The bride is the beautiful and accomplished young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Adams, and is one of Clay City's society belles.
Dr. Dickson is a rising young dentist of this city, and is a gentleman in every sense of its meaning.
The couple left for Cincinnati, returning to Jackson Thursday night. They have taken rooms at Mrs. Ramsey's on Arlington Avenue.
The News joins a host of friends in extending well wishes to the happy couple.

Call and See Them.
In this issue you will find the advertisement of A. P. Crawford & Co., a new firm doing business in the Crawford building. Their goods are all new and their prices are rock bottom. They desire to call especial attention to their large stock of up-to-date clothing. Call and examine their large assortment. It will cost nothing to look.

Star Routes.
New rules. Speculative bidding prohibited. Only local people eligible to bid.
Box delivery and collection of mail on every route.
Postmaster General advertising for bids for all star routes in Kentucky. Eleven in Breathitt county.
Under the rules of the Department a bidder must live on or near the route and be required to perform the service or at least give it personal supervision, thus ruling out speculative bidders.
Box delivery and collection of mail on every route. Anyone living along a route and who puts up a box on roadside so that carrier need not leave his horse or wagon, and files a written request with the man, delivered free of charge.
Bids for routes must be made and filed at office of Second Assistant Postmaster General, Washington, D. C., not later than 4 p. m., December 1.
Decisions of award will be announced on or before February 1, 1904.
Contract is for four years, beginning July 1, 1904.
Postmasters have blanks and can give information relative to bidding and rules governing the service.
List of routes in Breathitt county:
Jackson to Hindman.
Jackson to Hazard.
Robbins to Jackson.
Rousseau to Jackson.
Woburn to Jackson.
Turkey to Athol.
Boxer to Campton.
Rousseau to Lambrie.
Wharf to Oakdale.
Taulbee to Simpson.
Crockettsville to Elkatawa.

Combination Offer.
By our liberal terms with the publishers of other papers, we are able to furnish you two papers for a little more than the price of one. We can save you money on any paper you wish to take. We will furnish you THE BREATHITT COUNTY NEWS and either of the following:
Courier-Journal,
Louisville Herald,
Chicago Inter-Ocean,
Cincinnati Enquirer,
Lexington Leader,
Home and Farm, or
New York Tribune-Farmer
One Year For Only $1.25.
No one should be without a paper when he can buy two of the best in the country for so little money.

LETTER LIST.
List of unclaimed mail matter, advertised by Daniel D. Hurst, P. M., at Jackson, Ky., Nov. 13, 1903, and sent to the Dead Letter office at Washington, D. C. for the week ending November 27, 1903.
Clemons, Marion
Campbell, W P
Cooper, Frank
Davidson, Orley
Gooding, A P
Goodloe, M J
Hodgkin, Mr Relfe
Nickolas Mr Wm
Napier, G O
Piveral, George
Sargent, Belle
Hanley, Jacob
D. D. Hurst, P. M.

The Best Remedy For Croup.
This is the season when the woman who knows the best remedies for croup is in demand in every neighborhood. One of the most terrible things in the world is to be awakened in the middle of the night by a whoop from one of the children. The croup, as a revolver, is sure to be lost in case of burglars. There used to be an old fashioned remedy for croup, known as hives syrup and told, but some modern mothers say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is better and does not cost so much. It causes the patient to "throw up the phlegm" quicker, and give relief in a shorter time. Give this remedy as soon as the croupy cough appears and it will prevent the attack. It never fails and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by Day Bros. Co.

The Election
The election from the county of . . . in the 11th Congressional district, to be held in the election of . . . through . . .

Coal and Timber Land Wanted.
Wanted one hundred thousand acres of coal and timber lands in Eastern Kentucky, for Cash, for Eastern Capitalists.
C. E. SMITH, Lexington, Ky.

The Weekly Inter Ocean
Is a member of the Associated Press, the only Western Newspaper receiving the entire Telegraphic News Service of the New York Sun and Special Cable of the New York World—daily reports from over 2,000 special correspondents throughout the country.
YEAR ONE DOLLAR
Subscribe for THE BREATHITT COUNTY NEWS and The Weekly Inter Ocean one year, both papers for $1.25.

AMERICA'S BEST.
Editorially Fearless.
Consistently Republican.
News from all of the world—W. F. W. original Staff—Special—Articles on the W. F. W. and the W. F. W. and the W. F. W.

Here We Are!
The Celebrated
HANAN SHOE,
The Best on Earth.
PRICE $5.00 PRICE

HANAN SHOE

PROFESSIONAL CARDS.
J. WISE HAGINS. C. N. ROWLING.
HAGINS & BOWLING,
ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW,
Office over Post-Office,
JACKSON, KENTUCKY.

All business intrusted to them will receive prompt and careful attention.

THOS. T. HINER. A. J. PATTON
HINER & PATTON,
LAWYERS,
JACKSON, KENTUCKY.

L. C. ROARK,
LAWYER,
JACKSON, KENTUCKY.
Will practice in Breathitt and Magoffin Counties.

John Dean, Stone Mason
Foundations
Stones Pillars.

RAILROAD TABLES
Lexington & Eastern R'y
LOCAL TIME TABLE.
Effective October 17, 1903.

East Bound.
No. 4. Daily. Ex. Sunday. P. M.
Lv Lexington, 2.25 7.45
Winchester, 3.10 8.25
Clay City, 3.56 9.13
Stanton, 4.08 9.23
Natural Bridge, 4.35 9.54
Trenton, 4.49 10.08
Beattyville Jun., 5.11 10.29
O. & K. Junction, 6.11 11.28
Ar Jackson, 6.15 11.30

West Bound.
No. 3. Daily. Ex. Sunday. P. M.
Ar Lexington, 10.10 6.05
Winchester, 9.23 5.20
Clay City, 8.37 4.39
Stanton, 8.23 4.30
Natural Bridge, 8.01 4.01
Trenton, 7.47 3.47
Beattyville Jun., 7.26 3.26
O. & K. Junction, 6.29 2.30
Ar Jackson, 6.25 2.25

Nos. 3 and 4 make close connection for Cannel City and points on Ohio & Kentucky Railway Division, daily except Sunday.
Nos. 1 and 2 connect at L. & E. Junction with Chesapeake & Ohio for Mt. Sterling and local points.
Nos. 1 and 2 connect at Beattyville Junction with L. & A. for Beattyville daily except Sunday.
J. R. BARR, Gen. Mgr't.
CHAS. SCOTT, G. P. A.

O. & K. RY.
Effective September 1, 1902.

East Bound.
Mixed Train. Pass. Train.
AM. AR. PM. AR.
8:30 2:30 O & K. Junction 11:20 3:30
8:43 1:58 Wilihurst 11:52 4:17
8:50 1:52 Hampton 11:58 4:30
7:50 1:28 Lee City 12:22 5:10
7:41 1:22 Helechwah 12:28 5:18
7:15 1:05 Cannel City 12:45 5:45
AM. LV. PM. LV.
West-bound Passenger Train connects at O. & K. Junction with train which leaves Lexington at 7:40 a.m.
East-bound Passenger Train connects at O. & K. Junction with train which arrives at Winchester 6:20 and Lexington at 6:05 p.m.
M. L. CONLEY, Sup't.

3

Mrs. L. C. Glover, Vice-President Milwaukee, Wis., Business Woman's Association, is another one of the million women who have been restored to health by using Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I was married for several years and no children blessed my home. The doctor said I had a complication of female troubles and I could not have any children unless I could be cured. He tried to cure me, but after experimenting for several months, my husband became disgusted, and one night when we noticed the testimonial of a woman who had been cured of similar trouble through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, he went out and bought a bottle for me. I used your medicine for three and one-half months, improving steadily in health, and in twenty-two months a child came. I cannot fully express the joy and thankfulness that is in my heart. Our home is a different place now, as we have something to live for, and all the credit is due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Yours very sincerely, Mrs. L. C. GLOVER, 614 Grove St., Milwaukee, Wis." Vice President, Milwaukee Business Woman's Association. —$5000 Perfect if original of above letter proving genuineness cannot be produced.

Wine. Though worth several millions, Hugh McLaughlin, the Brooklyn demagogue, spends very little money on himself, his clothing at times being absolutely shabby. His chief lieutenant, James Sheehan, is a relative by marriage and a dealer in shoes, says a New York exchange. "Come over to my store," said Sheehan one day, and get you a pair of good shoes made. The old man demurred at first, but finally consented and was measured for a fine pair. Shortly afterward he received a pair for $12, just about three times as much as he is accustomed to pay for footwear. He looked at the document gravely for a minute, wrote across the face of it, "Collect from Sheehan; he's responsible," remained it to the sender and heard nothing more about the matter.

New Fast Train to Texas via Iron Mountain Route, leaving St. Louis 8:30 a. m. for points in Texas and the Southwest. Direct connection with trains from North and East. In addition to this the Iron Mountain Route has three other trains to Texas leaving St. Louis: 2:30 p. m. and 3:30 a. m. Through Pullman Sleepers, Dining Cars and Elegant Chair Cars. Twelve coaches served to California, fastest schedules to Texas. Tourist tickets on sale the year round. Write any agent of Iron Mountain Route, or H. C. Townsend, General Passenger and Ticket Agent, St. Louis.

Solo Would Be Appreciated. "Allow me to introduce you to Prof. Alphon Stocker. He has this season surmounted the difficulties of the Midway." "O, delighted, professor, must beg of you to attend my next musical reception and bring the Matterhorn with you!"—Stray Stories.

Low Rate Excursions. On the first and third Tuesdays of each month to Texas, Indian and Oklahoma Territories via M. & T. Ry. Take advantage of the opportunity offered by the Great Southwest in all its glory. "Texas," "Business," "Indian Territory" and other booklets, brimful of information, will be sent on receipt of two-cent stamp to prepaid post. Address: George Morton, G. F. & T. A. M. & T. Ry., Suite G, The Wainwright, St. Louis, Mo.

Beware of threats! People may not pay any attention to them, and then you are left in an embarrassing position.—Puck.

The Overland Limited, solid train Chicago to the Coast daily. Chicago, Union Pacific & North-Western Line.

The Shortest Way out of an attack of Rheumatism or Neuralgia

St. Jacobs Oil. "Which affords not only relief, but a prompt cure. It soothes, soothes, and ends the suffering." Price, 25c. and 50c.

Big Four Route TO THE WORLD FAMED Virginia Hot Springs.

THE NEW Homestead Hotel,

Under the management of Mr. Fred Steery. This fine brick structure is now fully completed. Has 400 rooms and 200 private baths, each room supplied with long distance phone and modern appointments. Brokers' office with direct New York wire. MAGNIFICENT BATH HOUSE and NEW COUNTRY HOUSE with South Coast, lounging rooms, cafe, pool, tennis tables, etc. Tennis courts and all outdoor amusements. Orchestra.

OCTOBER and NOVEMBER The Grandest Months in the Year Magnificent Train Service, Dining Cars, Pullman Sleepers, Observation Cars. Reduced Rate Tickets now on sale. For full information call on agents of the BIG FOUR ROUTE.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson in the International Series for November 15, 1903.—David's Trust in God. The Lesson Text—Psalm 23.

(Ps. 23:1, 2.) "Jehovah is my shepherd." For hundreds of years the Hebrews had been a shepherd nation. They knew as we cannot know the richness and beauty of this thought of Jehovah as a shepherd. In trying to realize what the Syrian shepherd was to the sheep we must remember that the Syrian pastures are not like ours, but vast stretches of half barren land in which streams are few and often dry, and which are infested with wild beasts and Arab robbers. With us sheep are turned out to pasture and left to themselves in perfect safety; but in the east the shepherd literally lives with his flock and shares their hardships and dangers with them, for only so can he protect them and protect them. "I shall not want." The perfect trust of one who knows God's care from experience. It does not say: "I shall never want anything I cannot have," but rather: "Whatsoever God sees is best for me, I know that He will do for He loves me." "He maketh me to lie down in green pastures." There are beautiful green pastures in the most barren desert. The Great Shepherd does not abolish the desert, but helps us to find and to rest in the oases. It is when we follow Him most closely that the truest peace is found. "He leadeth me." There is a great difference between leading and driving. In America we see sheep driven about by a man who, as Henry van Dyke says, "seems to be little more than a policeman to them." The Syrian shepherd leads, for in some of the pastures there are poisonous weeds, and he must be there first to remove them; he must select the pasture with the greatest care, and at the parting of the ways he with his superior wisdom must choose the right one, and because they have grown up with him and have never been disappointed by him the sheep follow him with implicit faith. Sheep have not very much wisdom, but they have enough to follow the shepherd, and that is sufficient. So we "shall not want" if only we have wisdom enough to follow our Shepherd. "Beside still waters." (Vs. 3, 4.) "He restoreth my soul." Or restores or refreshes me, for the Hebrew word for life and soul is one. The most faithful Christians need refreshing of spirit, and those who have wandered into dangerous and therefore forbidden places, need also to be restored to the safety of the fold. Both meanings are in this expression. "The paths of righteousness." The thought here is especially of the human flock. One would not naturally speak of righteous paths when referring to the sheep. To the sheep they are the paths that lead to what is best for them; they are the same to us. Perhaps sometimes our Shepherd leads us over stony ways; but He does not do it for His own sake, nor because He does not know the pain of the bruised and bleeding feet, but because there is no other way by which He can lead us out into the better life that awaits us beyond. But we do not suffer alone. He goes with us, and His feet are wounded as well as our own. And so we reach the better land through the sacrifice and blood of our shepherd, the Saviour, "The shadow of death." Or, deep darkness. "The psalmist had not merely the experience of literal death in mind, but all experiences where the darkness is thick and profound." (Vs. 5, 6.) "Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies." The figure seems to change here to that of a meal at which the psalmist thinks of himself as the protected guest of Jehovah. Poes he still has, but they cannot harm him. It is possible, however, as William A. Knight has shown, that it is a shepherd's psalm to the very end, for in reality the shepherd prepares the pasture for the flock in the midst of all kinds of dangers and "enemies," but they graze upon it in perfect security. "Thou hast anointed my head with oil." A refreshing country shown to guests in oriental lands, or the bathing or anointing of the bruised and weary sheep as it enters the fold at night. The shepherd has "the horn filled with olive oil, and he anoints a knee bruised upon the rocks or a side scratched by thorns. And here comes one that is not bruised, but is simply worn and exhausted; he bathes his face and head with the refreshing oil of, and he takes the large two-handle cup and dips it brimming full from the vessel of water provided for that purpose, and he lets the weary sheep drink. There is nothing finer in the psalm than this. God's care is not for the wounded only, but for the worn and weary also. He anoints my head with oil, my cup runneth over."—W. A. Knight. "I shall dwell in the house of Jehovah forever." Jehovah is my Shepherd; His house is the fold. I shall dwell as I am dwelling in His safe fold forever! A perpetual fellowship.

Read in connection with this psalm John 10:1-18 and Luke 15:1-7 for Christ's use of this same figure.

PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS. Blessed is the man who can truly say: "The Lord is my shepherd!" Blessed is the man who can say: "I shall not want." The Lord's shepherd care is better than any bank deposit.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

A judge of a court of record is held, in Webb vs. Fisher (Tenn.), 60 L. R. A. 79, not to be subject to a private action for oppressively, maliciously and corruptly entering a decree disbarring an attorney. The steepest mountain railway in Europe is being built from the Tyrolean village of Kalten to the Mendel pass. Its gradient is 64 degrees, thus exceeding that of the Stanserhorn in Switzerland, which has heretofore held the record.

An interesting scheme has been launched with the view of alleviating the misery caused by the failure of the sardine fisheries off the coast of Brittany. It consists in the emigration of the Breton fishermen to the shores of Algiers and Tunis, where the fish is so abundant that one Sicilian fleet of 2,500 boats employs over 12,000 men. Already several hundred Breton families have been handed in their names at various towns and villages; but danger of the scheme failing lies in the absorbing love of country, for nearly all the fishermen make the condition that they shall be brought back to spend the close season in their native haunts.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson in the International Series for November 15, 1903.—David's Trust in God. The Lesson Text—Psalm 23.

(Ps. 23:1, 2.) "Jehovah is my shepherd." For hundreds of years the Hebrews had been a shepherd nation. They knew as we cannot know the richness and beauty of this thought of Jehovah as a shepherd. In trying to realize what the Syrian shepherd was to the sheep we must remember that the Syrian pastures are not like ours, but vast stretches of half barren land in which streams are few and often dry, and which are infested with wild beasts and Arab robbers. With us sheep are turned out to pasture and left to themselves in perfect safety; but in the east the shepherd literally lives with his flock and shares their hardships and dangers with them, for only so can he protect them and protect them. "I shall not want." The perfect trust of one who knows God's care from experience. It does not say: "I shall never want anything I cannot have," but rather: "Whatsoever God sees is best for me, I know that He will do for He loves me." "He maketh me to lie down in green pastures." There are beautiful green pastures in the most barren desert. The Great Shepherd does not abolish the desert, but helps us to find and to rest in the oases. It is when we follow Him most closely that the truest peace is found. "He leadeth me." There is a great difference between leading and driving. In America we see sheep driven about by a man who, as Henry van Dyke says, "seems to be little more than a policeman to them." The Syrian shepherd leads, for in some of the pastures there are poisonous weeds, and he must be there first to remove them; he must select the pasture with the greatest care, and at the parting of the ways he with his superior wisdom must choose the right one, and because they have grown up with him and have never been disappointed by him the sheep follow him with implicit faith. Sheep have not very much wisdom, but they have enough to follow the shepherd, and that is sufficient. So we "shall not want" if only we have wisdom enough to follow our Shepherd. "Beside still waters." (Vs. 3, 4.) "He restoreth my soul." Or restores or refreshes me, for the Hebrew word for life and soul is one. The most faithful Christians need refreshing of spirit, and those who have wandered into dangerous and therefore forbidden places, need also to be restored to the safety of the fold. Both meanings are in this expression. "The paths of righteousness." The thought here is especially of the human flock. One would not naturally speak of righteous paths when referring to the sheep. To the sheep they are the paths that lead to what is best for them; they are the same to us. Perhaps sometimes our Shepherd leads us over stony ways; but He does not do it for His own sake, nor because He does not know the pain of the bruised and bleeding feet, but because there is no other way by which He can lead us out into the better life that awaits us beyond. But we do not suffer alone. He goes with us, and His feet are wounded as well as our own. And so we reach the better land through the sacrifice and blood of our shepherd, the Saviour, "The shadow of death." Or, deep darkness. "The psalmist had not merely the experience of literal death in mind, but all experiences where the darkness is thick and profound." (Vs. 5, 6.) "Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies." The figure seems to change here to that of a meal at which the psalmist thinks of himself as the protected guest of Jehovah. Poes he still has, but they cannot harm him. It is possible, however, as William A. Knight has shown, that it is a shepherd's psalm to the very end, for in reality the shepherd prepares the pasture for the flock in the midst of all kinds of dangers and "enemies," but they graze upon it in perfect security. "Thou hast anointed my head with oil." A refreshing country shown to guests in oriental lands, or the bathing or anointing of the bruised and weary sheep as it enters the fold at night. The shepherd has "the horn filled with olive oil, and he anoints a knee bruised upon the rocks or a side scratched by thorns. And here comes one that is not bruised, but is simply worn and exhausted; he bathes his face and head with the refreshing oil of, and he takes the large two-handle cup and dips it brimming full from the vessel of water provided for that purpose, and he lets the weary sheep drink. There is nothing finer in the psalm than this. God's care is not for the wounded only, but for the worn and weary also. He anoints my head with oil, my cup runneth over."—W. A. Knight. "I shall dwell in the house of Jehovah forever." Jehovah is my Shepherd; His house is the fold. I shall dwell as I am dwelling in His safe fold forever! A perpetual fellowship.

Read in connection with this psalm John 10:1-18 and Luke 15:1-7 for Christ's use of this same figure.

PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS. Blessed is the man who can truly say: "The Lord is my shepherd!" Blessed is the man who can say: "I shall not want." The Lord's shepherd care is better than any bank deposit.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

A judge of a court of record is held, in Webb vs. Fisher (Tenn.), 60 L. R. A. 79, not to be subject to a private action for oppressively, maliciously and corruptly entering a decree disbarring an attorney. The steepest mountain railway in Europe is being built from the Tyrolean village of Kalten to the Mendel pass. Its gradient is 64 degrees, thus exceeding that of the Stanserhorn in Switzerland, which has heretofore held the record.

An interesting scheme has been launched with the view of alleviating the misery caused by the failure of the sardine fisheries off the coast of Brittany. It consists in the emigration of the Breton fishermen to the shores of Algiers and Tunis, where the fish is so abundant that one Sicilian fleet of 2,500 boats employs over 12,000 men. Already several hundred Breton families have been handed in their names at various towns and villages; but danger of the scheme failing lies in the absorbing love of country, for nearly all the fishermen make the condition that they shall be brought back to spend the close season in their native haunts.

LATEST FAD IN TATTOOING.

Chicago's First Railway Half-Century. Under the above heading the Railway Age, referring to the recent centennial celebration of the city of Chicago, said: "The world had not heard of railways in 1803. It was about 25 years after the starting of Chicago before the first locomotive went into service in the United States. As early as 1836 a few far-seeing men among the pioneers in the country between Lake Michigan and the Mississippi river determined that a railway ought to be built to Galena, an ambitious project in the least mining regions, 120 miles to the northwest of this point. They secured a charter for the Galena & Chicago Union railroad, giving Galena the honor of precedence in the title, because it was the more important place. Why was it determined that the first railroad should start for Galena from this little town on Lake Michigan? Simply because there were a few men here of the railway building spirit. These men might have started a Chicago at some other point on the lake more attractive by nature than this. The pioneer railway was to determine the location of the greatest railway center in the world, and when William B. Ogden and his associates determined that here should be the starting point, the way lay to unite Galena with the lake, they did the thing which made Chicago.

It was 12 years after the charter was granted, before the first piece of road was completed. The plan of 1837 stopped the survey, and construction was not begun until 1841, but on November 30, 1848, the Galena & Chicago Union Railroad ran its first train from Chicago west to Harlem, 10 miles. Within three years it reached Elgin, 43 miles, and by 1854 had been extended to Freeport, 120 miles westward from Chicago, where it stopped for good. The Galena road never reached Galena. The gap of 51 miles between Freeport and the original goal of its ambition was substantial. It was the line of the Chicago & North-Western, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was preparing an extension to the northwestern line. In 1854 the Galena & Chicago Union railway, which was built by the Central on its way to Dubuque, and the Galena & Chicago Union railway, having decided on a more direct line to the Mississippi river, built the "Disson Air Line" from Turner Junction on the old road, 30 miles west of Chicago, on to the Mississippi, which was reached at the end of 1853. The pioneer road had built a branch, from Belvidere, Ill., into Wisconsin and was